PONY SHOW A FEATURE.

Premium Awards for Yesterday
Program for Today
—Notes.

J. Plavus, opening the flood-gates of the heavens, spoiled the opening day of the Bourbon Fair, reducing the crowd which has always heretofore characterized the first day, to a minimum and occasioned the postponement of four of the principal events of the day until the opening this morning.

Before the gates of the grounds were thrown open yesterday morning, the elements which had been threatening since dawn, opened in all their fury, and before the scheduled time for the exhibition to begin, the ring was a sea of mud and the surrounding grounds deluged to such an extent as to render it disagreeable to the extremely small crowds in attendance.

As a precaution to prevent the beautiful show ring from being cut and made unsightly by the hoofs of the ponies on exhibition and the wheels of the little carts to which a number were driven, the officers of the Society decided to hold the pony show in the rear of the amphitheatre and preserve the exhibition ring for the events today.

This move on the part of the officers did not discommode the spectator in the least as many stationed themselves in the rear of the stand overlooking the place of exhibition, while others went to the grounds below.

The exhibition opened with an excellent display of Shorthorn cattle, the attractive premiums bringing out many entries. The pony show which, since the rejuvenation of the Society, has been one of the principal attractions, and adding to the enjoyment of the women and children, was fully up to the average, although the exhibitors were handicapped to some extent, through the order of the officers not to allow the use of the ring.

The ring for the fancy turnout, carrying with it a premium of ten dollars for the first choice and half that amount to the second, was won by Miss Mary Agnes Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Turner, of this city, against two other contestants, John Stuart was awarded the second premium.

The four events postponed until this morning will bring together a fine class of harness and saddle horses, roadster stallions and colts. It is proposed by the officers to take up this part of the program this morning and will make an effort to complete the program which was carried over from yesterday and that of today before the closing this afternoon. ONE KILLED IN ACCIDENT

Auto Containing Lexington Party
Crashed into Trolley Pole
Injuring 3 Others.

GLENN ELKINS THE VICTIM

Howard Gratz Seriously Hurt and
May Die—Bourbon Boy
Slightly Injured.

As the result of an automobile accident which occurred shortly after 12 o'clock last night, Glenn Elkins, of Lexington, aged 26 years, received injuries from which he died an hour later, Howard Gratz, of Lexington, sustained injuries which may result fatally, and Warren Fisher, of North Middletown, this county, and Robert Cunningham, of Lexington, sustained slight bruises and cuts.

The accident occurred about three miles from Paris on the Lexington pike at a point known as Shanty Spring, where a sharp curve in the road probably deceived the driver of the car, which was evidently being driven down the hill at a rapid rate of speed, the driver thinking he had a straight road and before the course of the car could be changed, the machine skidded, crushed into a trolley pole, the wheels of the left side of the car striking the track, throwing the occupants out.

The force of the impact broke the trolley pole a few feet from the ground and the wheels of the car demolished, and the machine thrown across the interurban track.

Elkins was found on the opposite side of the track with his head between two cross-ties and lying across the body of Gratz, who struck the embankment and rolled to the side of the track.

Mr. Chas. A. Webber was the first to render any assistance to the injured men. Mr. Webber was returning home from the dance at Elks' Hall last night in company with his wife, Miss Chowney, of Shelbyville, and Miss Erdman, of Lexington.

At the turn in the road Mr. Webber brought his machine to almost a complete stop, when he was hailed by Fisher who informed him of the accident and asked him to assist in getting the men to Paris.

Mr. Webber drove his car to his home and returned to the scene of the accident. In the meantime Mrs. Webber had telephoned to Dr. C. G. Daugherty, who hastily prepared to give the injured men medical attention.

Arriving at the scene, Mr. Webber, who regarded Elkins as probably the most fatally injured of the party, with the assistance of Fisher and Cunningham, succeeded in getting the man in his car and brought him to Paris, leaving Gratz in charge of a negro named Coleman.

Mr. Webber returned to the scene immediately after turning Elkins over to the care of Dr. Daugherty, in company with Dr. Wm. Dudley and Patrolman G. N. McKenney, and rushed Gratz to this city, where he was waited upon by Dr. Dudley at the office of Drs. Fithian and Daugherty.

Elkins lived but about an hour after he was brought to Paris. His skull was crushed at the base and the scalp torn from his head. It is evident that in being thrown from the car his head struck the end of a cross tie, fracturing the skull. He died without ever regaining consciousness.

The body was removed to the undertaking establishment of Geo. W. Davis where it was prepared for burial and sent to Lexington on the 7:30 L. & N. train this morning. Mr. Webber communicated with Mr. W. I. Hughes, the employer of Elkins, in Lexington, at 2 o'clock this morning, who with Mr. Leon Smith came to Paris in an automobile.

When picked up Gratz was bleeding profusely from the nose and mouth. An examination revealed a broken collar bone and shoulder and several fractured ribs. He is believed to be internally injured. His relatives were immediately notified of the accident and early this morning he was rushed to a Lexington hospital in Mr. W. W. Mitchell's automobile. He had partly regained consciousness. His condition is regarded as critical.

Neither Fisher nor Cunningham sustained any serious injury, the former suffering a sprained ankle and the latter, who was driving the machine, a slight cut on the leg. Both men returned to Lexington last night.

The machine, which was a complete wreck, was the property of C. D. Cunningham, father of Robt. Cunningham Gratz is well known in this city, being the son of Mrs. Birdie Gratz, formerly Miss Ogden, of this county.
